OUR SERVICE FLAG

What is a star upon the morning sky?
Proud courage gleaming bright there all alone,
A soldier's sad, revealing eyes that shine
As thoughts and dreams turn once again to home.
What is this midnight sky now sinking down
Upon the battlefields of foreign strands?
The shadowed shapes of men who lie too still
Along the jungle floor and desert sands.
What is the red that runs this field around?
The first red light of dawn now coming through
Into a Red Cross post where lies a man
Whose clothes are torn and sodden red of hue.
What is this spot of gold now shining bright?
A medal for some boy who's left the fight.

—Betty Claire King.

Foreword

Presenting this thirty-first volume of the Oak, we, the senior class, hope that it will serve as a treasured album of two institutions that you love — your city and your school. We are proud of their growth and of the work they are doing toward winning the war and insuring a lasting peace.

To a really

Dedication

As the development of Dallas indicates the unselfish efforts of courageous citizens, so Adamson's progress reflects the faithful service of its own leaders. Cheerful in disposition and fair in her dealings with others, Miss Fannie Graves is outstanding in this group. To her the Oak of 1943 is affectionately dedicated.

A lbert,
you're a good guy.
I'll enjoy being with you next year.

Dallas

This is my city,
Standing where the high plains meet the low
farmlands,
Standing as a "no man's land" between the three o'clock hurly-burly of Chicago
And the three o'clock emptiness of San Antonio;
But she holds her head up proudly,
For she is a queen crowned with myriad lights
And myriad stars.
She is a debutante whose coming-out party
Is still a topic of American conversation.
True, she is a city of white towers, but
Her feet are firmly planted in the warm, brown earth,
And you can walk her streets to their limits and say,
"Now this was an independent town once;
This was Cedar Springs, or Three Forks or Hord's Ridge."
West of the Trinity the prairie begins,
Just little patches of mesquite at first
And then the plains alone;
But here on the west bank there are oak trees,
Here the soil is fertile and birds sing in this shade.
Among these little hills which Fourier never saw
A people came to live, from Paris and Orleans and Carcassonne;
And still you find their names on rural mail boxes,
And still their children build upon this land.
Perhaps that wailing wind is not a wind,
But the singing and the sighing of Louise Dussau,
Who was woo'd with the aid of an English-French dictionary.
What about the roily old river, the muddy Trinity?
In late summer there are dry cracks gaping at her banks,
But in the spring she overflows those banks
And goes travelling outward to the restraining levees;
Oh, you can't say she's an ugly river;
The bridges and viaducts save her from that.
You should drive from the west into my city
On a misty winter day when the viaduct lights
Reach out and touch each other in the gloom,
And the clouds reflect the colored beacons of town.
When the Sally Haynes floated up our river
There were only bonfires and small groups of people to welcome her,
And the steamboat's crew could hear but voices

Calling out from the bank.
Our river is the same old unpredictable river
today;
The willows along her banks still turn pink then green
In the spring
And the sun still shines down on kinky, black heads
As darky families fish in the muddy waters.
There upon the courthouse steps the old men sit,
Here upon the lawn John Neely Bryan's cabin
Where Margaret Beeman and her husband made their home,
And on these foundations was built this city.
Blithe Pegasus a glittering landmark is,
Ever pacing the skies above us;
General Lee and Traveller charge on despite defeat and desolation,
Brave men and true stand here a goodly company,
Travis, Houston, Crockett, Austin, Bowie, standing in a row
Looking down on newer times and newer wars and Newer generations;
Hostess to a million guests each year my lady is;
Always she has a bright smile and warm handclasp for those,
But as necessity arises, she arises, too,
And with the wisdom of Athena, the courage of St. Joan and
The fire of Sif, plunges into battle.
She is as beautiful carrying a flag as a gem-encrusted scepter,
And she has flown a multitude of flags in her day,
Even as other cities of Texas have.
Today patriarchal fathers of Dallas sit along with their great-grandchildren,
"Why, I remember when I lived near here as a boy;
Back in '57 it was, and buffalo hides were still being sold on Main Street."
But now, what about now? This century flower has bloomed;
Dallas is no longer a child or a gangling half-
grown school girl;
She is a woman of poise and grace that comes only with years;
She carries her dignity well, but in Spring she laughs
And twines redbuds in her golden hair.

Betty Claire King.

Who's Who

The students pictured on these pages have achieved excellent scholastic or literary attainments. Ten of them are among the highest honor graduates in the classes of January and June. La Nelia Farmer is the 1943 winner of the city interscholastic League essay contest. Ruth Rimmer and Janie Teitel, also competing in interscholastic League events, compose the champion girls' debate team of Dallas.

Dallas Historical Society

The Adamson Dallas Historical Society, begun in 1941, is a junior chapter of the city-wide organization. Its purpose is "to institute and encourage historical inquiry; to collect, preserve, and exhibit the materials of history; and to spread historical information, especially concerning Dallas and the Southwest."

The outstanding events of the year were the visit to "Miller-more" and the presentation of an original play, Washington's Defeat by Treva Jo Matney, at the Hall of State before the members of other school chapters. These and all other activities are recorded in the club book maintained by the archivist.

Book Review Club

Limiting its roll to thirty, the Book Review Club elects new members each semester from the three upper classes. The Bookworms meet every other Thursday morning before school for informal discussions of current literature and a review of a new book or short story. On one occasion, Miss Higginbotham reviewed Nicholas's Burma Road

At the annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Lemly, Mrs. V. Y. Rejebian reviewed The Robe by Lloyd C. Douglas. The club made a Christmas donation of five dollars to the Red Cross.

Texas State Historical Association

This group, organized in 1941 and sponsored by the Texas State Historical Association, is the twenty-fifth of the fifty chapters throughout the state. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in local and Texas history, to uncover and publish items concerning them, and to visit places of historical significance in the community. This year, visits to Millmore and to La Reunion, old French Town, were particularly instructive and great fun. The Junior Historian, official magazine of the organization, published two articles written by youthful historians of the Adamson club. "Millmore," by Jack Earnest, appeared in the January issue, and "Tales of the Trail," by Patsy Pledge, in the April number.

Art Club

An easel, paint brushes, a lovely picture—and what have you? Why, an artist, a member of the Art Club!

Organized to aid in developing art appreciation and creative effort at Adamson, the club is growing in popularity. At its informal semi-monthly meetings, discussions of current art topics create much interest in the allied arts.

Peggy Archibald presented one of the year's most outstanding programs when she gave a talk entitled "Glass as a Hobby," and displayed a collection of beautiful old glass. At another time, Imogene Smyer's discussion of the part played by posters in the war effort was most instructive and inspirational. In cooperation with the Junior Red Cross, the club has designed menu covers and executed them in stencils and block printing.

Junior Girl Reserves

The Junior Girl Reserves was organized to afford supervised recreation and spiritual guidance for freshmen and sophomores in Dallas junior and senior high schools. This year members joined their big sister organization, the Senior Girl Reserves, in war-time activities at the Service Workroom at the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday mornings. A spirited contest between the Blues and Whites, led by Peggy Archibald and Shirley Wolff, respectively, was the highlight of the year. Honor points were gained by attendance at gatherings and by various activities. The race was won by the Blue team

Senior Girl Reserves

The Senior Girl Reserves, the oldest organization in Adamson—it was begun in 1918—this year combines much serious work with its social program.

On Saturday mornings in the Y. W. C. A. Service Workroom under the direction of Miss Mary Sturdevant, the "Y" supervisor, the members made many scrapbooks, utility bags, slippers, place cards, and favors for the boys in uniform. For social relaxation, they lunched together at the "Y" on the second Saturday of each month and enjoyed their usual Christmas party, a spring "kid" party, and occasional dances. Association with Girl Reserves from other high schools increased the fun.

Stamp Club

Boy, oh, boy! A Victor Herbert! Just what I need to complete my American Musicians collection. Trade me, will you?

Sure, if you'll let me have that seven-cent Acadia

Typical of the semi-monthly meetings of the Stamp Club is the preceding conversation. This group mixes fun and stamp collecting. The meetings start off with a "social." (Sometimes there are refreshments.) They end with brisk trading and animated argument.

The enthusiastic philatelists say that they find their hobby fascinating. After all, there is always the possibility of coming upon a "rare" find, perhaps a block of irregular stamps. But probably the greatest attraction of stamp collecting is the opportunity it offers to study and enjoy history. Nations record indelibly in stamps their growth, struggles, and culture. Skilled collectors can unravel these stories with ease.

Pen Pals

The Pen Pals, organized in 1929 under the name of "Essay Club," claims to have the highest entrance fee of any organization in Adamson—brains and the will to work. It is composed of members who possess or seek literary skill, not only for the honor of representing our school in state and national poetry and essay contests, but also for the actual fun of writing. The purpose of the club therefore, is to develop the literary talent of its members and to encourage all types of composition in the school.

This year the club held its regular meetings on every other Monday afternoon. Those meetings were renowned for their cleverness and variety, because original poems and essays were presented by the writers for the enjoyment of the members and their guests.

Pan American Student Forum

The Pan American Student Forum of Adamson, a unit of the International organization, is composed of students who maintain a lively interest in the Spanish language and the people who speak it. At the meetings members talk, sing, play, and dine, using the language of our Southern neighbors.

This picture was made at the Christmas party on December 22, when the club, following an old Mexican custom, broke the pinata in order to scatter its store of goodies, which were concealed in a paper bag under the voluminous skirts. At that time the club also packed a basket of Christmas food, toys, and clothing, to be sent to Padre Renoso, priest of the Sacred Heart Church in Little Mexico, for distribution among the boys and girls of the parish.

The club yearly entertains charming and illustrious guests. Last spring Senorita Maria Christina Dittel, from Costa Rica, delighted the members on several occasions. Mexican Consul Luis Perez Abreu often visits Adamson to present prizes won in the City Spanish Essay Contest. (Incidentally, our school has won this coveted prize for five years in succession!)

Figure Skating

Have you ever been unable to sit down and then—when you did sit down—been unable to get up? That's the sort of predicament members of the Figure Skating Club found themselves in the day after their first session at the Fair Park Arena last fall.

The club was organized in January, 1942, by Mrs. Holloway and her husband, Mr. W. H. Holloway, who is now serving in the Navy, for the purpose of creating poise, teaching coordination, providing healthful exercise, and promoting sportsmanship.

Every Wednesday the skaters of Adamson may be seen at the arena, together with members of similar groups from other Dallas high schools, learning to do the "figure-eight," the three's and the Mohawk. A barrel of fun and a few sore muscles are enjoyed by all.

The purposes of debating are to develop logical thinking, to encourage self educating research, and to learn the art of persuasive expression.

In 1939, national affiliation was established for the Adamson Forensic League. Since then the organization has won its share of decisions in tournaments held in Dallas and surrounding cities. This year, we have competed at Sunset, North Dallas, Waco, and Sherman, the subject of debate being 'Federal World Government.'

"To create a spirit of active and intelligent interest in dramatics among boys and girls in secondary schools," is the purpose of Troupe Number 338 of the National Thespian Honor Society. Its twenty-five members are chosen from candidates who prove their eligibility by presenting before the Former wearers of the blue "D" have proved General MacArthur's famous statement, "On the fields of friendly strife are sown the seeds that, in other years, on other fields, reap the fruits of victory"

Excelsior Club

The Excelsior Club was established in 1940 by Miss Alexander for the purpose of training young men in the duties and privileges of citizenship. It meets every other Sunday afternoon in the library and has as its speaker-guests men important in local affairs who talk on subjects of vital interest.

The solemn and inspiring initiation into the club pledges each member to uphold the ideals of the organization and assume the obligation of thinking for himself after listening to men of wisdom and experience.

Student Assistants

Chosen for their reliability, initiative, and willingness to cooperate, student assistants render valuable service in the administration of school affairs. They volunteer for the duties and receive no compensation other than training and experience and the knowledge that they have given assistance. Usually they rank high in scholarship and leadership.

During the year Grady Spangler assisted Miss Ruth Ruffin in the Book Room.

Margaret Bohanan, Edith Collier, Charles Davis, Jack Davis, Charles Gaines, Earl Havens, Virginia Jones, Barbara Law, Norma Lenz, De Lois Loomis, Carolyn Lowery, Della Lou Sutton, Mildred Taylor, and Orene Whitcomb assisted Miss Graves by collecting absentee reports and delivering slips.

Assistants to Miss Ruth Bell and Miss Roberta King, the Senior Counselors, were Betty Anderson, Bernice Carrell, Norma Jean Flood, Georgia Griffin, Floy Horn, Billie Anne Hunter, Julia Johnston, Bobby Sue Miller, Gloria Russell, Jane Shelby, and Imogene Smyers. They checked credits, summoned students to conference, and enrolled new pupils.

In the office assisting Mrs. Geraldine Holloway, Mr. Allen's secretary, by answering telephones, making transcripts, and running errands were Martha Belle Coleman, Norma Cowan, Madeleine Duncan, Dena Sue Fields, Floy Horn, Norma Lenz, Louis Moore, Virginia Napier, Mary Sanders, Imogene Smyers, Louise Steeley, and Jo Ann Stokes.

Library Council

This group meets in a body only upon call meetings. It serves the school by doing the necessary routine duties of checking books and magazines in and out of the library, shelving books, keeping the library in order, binding magazines, clipping newspapers, helping students find material, and maintaining a friendly and courteous atmosphere in the library. Occasionally, dances and parties are sponsored for the benefit of the student body.

Student Council

The Student Council, composed of eight class presidents and a representative elected by popular vote from each counseling group, is the exemplar of the democratic way of government in our school. While attempting to foster school spirit and create a closer school democracy, the organization has this year worked in cooperation with the Junior Red Cross to collect keys, razor blades, and magazines.

Distributive Education

The two-year Distributive Education program offered in Adamson is under the direction of Miss Neel. It is designed to prepare students for retail employment following their graduation. They spend Saturday and part of every school day working at regular jobs in business establishments.

To point out the importance of their contribution to our economic system is irrelevant. They are paid for their work but the most important part of this school-plus-work program is the opportunity for building up to places of leadership in the retail field.

Applicants for this course must be sixteen years old and of junior classification. They must have recommendations and maintain a "C" scholastic average.

Those who have participated in the project this year are Norma Armstrong, Virginia Carney, Maxine Carstens, Wynona Coyce, Serena Coppage, Delpha Dawson, Lenore Dretzka, Billye Charles James, Cornelia Malone, Virginia Reese, Virginia Thomas, Inez Walker, Dorothy Weiser, Martha Lee Whitley, Pauline Wray, Don Alexander, Graham Cook, James Cowan, Watson Crumble, David England, and Lealand Hobbs.

Aeronautics

There is no better example of the part Adamson is playing in the war effort than this course in aeronautics. During air-cadet training, boys who have had this course will be able to devote more time to flying, and fewer boys will be "washed out." In classes the pupils study the parts and control of the plane, aerodynamics, navigation, and meteorology. They also study the Civil Aeronautics Regulations and keep scrap books containing pictures and information about planes. Students may subscribe to an interesting weekly paper, Current Aviation. By means of these activities the class is kept well-informed on the most recent developments in aviation.

Prerequisites for the course are credits in one year of algebra and one-half year of geometry and a classification of 3A or above. Classes are open to both boys and girls. Aeronautics is a one-year course which has proved to be very successful during the first year it has been offered at Adamson. Mr. Ballard and Mrs. Fulton are in charge of these classes.

The High School Victory Corps was instituted in 1942 by a special committee for the wartime readjustment of the organization and curricula of secondary schools. It has the endorsement of the War, Navy, and Commerce Departments and the United States Office of Education Wartime Commission. Its two objectives are the training of youth for the participation of high school youth in the community's war effort. To carry on this work, students are given their choice of general membership or membership in one of the five special high school divisions. Adamson's Victory Corps has an enrollment of 1,385—the largest in Dallas.

SEWING

Sewing for the Red Cross not shirts for soldiers but dresses for the girls who need help in a war torn world. The materials were furnished by the American Red Cross, the buttons, thread and patterns by the girls themselves. Forty-eight dresses were completed.

COOKING

No nation can survive without an adequate diet. The students in this class studying the meaning of Red Cross nutrition will be of untold value to their families, this nation and the world.

BUILDING

Not behind the girls in their contribution to satisfactory home life in America are these boys who are learning to use their heads and hands to save money and to make those homes worth dreaming about and coming back to. The hobbies and skills learned here will have a direct effect on our war effort and the peace to follow.

SAVING

This group is one of the smallest in Adamson, but the part it plays is great. No one needs to be told the value of that part. The picture tells only a bit of the complete story. Since April, 1941, savings have increased perceptibly and the War Bond and Stamp sales have grown extensively.

LEARNING

A history class under Miss Cooper studies the ways of men. Ability to evaluate governments and people comes through acquaintance with them. The whole world is a field for this work.

NEIGHBORING

The flags in the background represent twenty-one thirty-sixing American republics. The students in this class promote friendship and understanding among these nations by studying the Spanish language and by spreading Pan Americanism in war and in peace. Their work is of importance.

SEWING
 These girls need a story to tell with sewing in emergencies is the object of the practice of first aid. These pictures illustrate the arts of artificial respiration and bandaging.

NURSING

To help fill the vacancy created by the Army's absorption of civil war nurses, Adams girls learn efficient ways to care for the sick.

PROTECTING

Auxiliary firemen Bobby Rankin, Bob O'Hara, Ann Powell, Jim Paden, Wanda Robertson, and Ernest C. [unclear] have been prepared by a Civilian Defense Council course to take an active part in fighting fires. Dorothy Ann White is an air raid warden.

PLANTING

The two boys pictured at the bottom of the page are Gladden Seaberry and Bob McGlasson. During the spring planting emergency, they won prizes over stiff competition while helping a farmer plant his onion crops.

1942 Gridiron Calendar

Finishing second in the City Series race, the Leopards surprised sports writers who had slated them for fourth position. Six members of the Blue Squad made the Dallas All-Star team and played in Mexico City against Polytechnic Institute.

September 18

In the opening game our boys led in statistics but trailed Lamar of Houston by a score of 26-7.

September 25

Battling it out with the mighty Masons, the Leopards lost, 6-0.

October 2

Two Blue elevens chalked up 33 points against the scoreless Sulphur Springs Wildcats.

October 10

Beginning its City Series competition, Adamson beat the Forest Lions, 34-0.

October 24

The Leopards bowed to Sunset in the 25-12 defeat that was their final loss of the season.

October 30

Team spirit came to the front to result in a 13-7 count against the North Dallas Bulldogs.

November 6

The Sherman and Adamson teams clashed on a muddy field and locked the score, 7-7.

November 14

Our team was at its best, according to Coach Ballard, when it stacked up 12 points against Woodrow Wilson's lone touchdown.

November 20

Thirty Leopards trampled the Wolves, 30-6, to wind up a successful season.

December 26

Earl Beesley, Clyde Surratt, Ed Teubner, Hulen Simmons, James Calvert, and Harry Cowing helped carry the Dallas squad to a 21-0 victory over the Mexican players.

1. George Hollabaugh, Guard

Starting off with a bang, "Lord" looked like letter material at the beginning of his first football year. He didn't take long to prove his ability at defensive maneuvers.

2. Travis Pearson, Guard

Doing well on the scrub team last year, Travis was promoted to guard position on the first Blue squad last fall. He is slated to collect a second letter in 1943.

3. Calvin Hargis, Guard

Captain of the '41 B squad, "Stubby" reached the gridiron this year with first string assignments. His hard charging and fine blocking brought him a big 'D'.

4. Paul Rozenburg, Back

A second year sophomore letterman, Roze was a dynamo at a special line. A fast and determined he also showed excellent hard drive on plays through the line.

5. Earl Beesley, Back

Kid, winning his third football letter, was an All City squad man and went to Mexico City. One of the district's outstanding passers, he could kick with the best and played great defensive ball.

6. Clyde Surratt, Center

Clyde rose from last season's B squad to a place on the All City team. He was a tower of strength behind the line; his blocking was unexcelled and he won acclaim in Mexico City.

ADAMSON'S

7. Wallace Clyce, Back

A veteran from last year's team, "Greek" earned his first letter as an outstanding pass defender, as well as a neat runner and valuable ball carrier.

8. Bob Wasson, Back

"Bushel", a hard working and consistently good man, earned his third letter this season. He held down the fullback spot and acted as co-captain of the Leopards.

9. James Calvert, Back

Stationed at a new position, "Killer" earned his first letter and made the All City squad as well as the M. C. team. He was a talented blocker and line backer and directed the team with skill.

10. Alvin Sheeler, Guard

"Sarge" developed quickly from a beginning lineman of last year to an able '42 letterman. He made a good record with his defensive charging and offensive blocking.

11. Richard Zuefeldt, Guard

Zue, owner of two letters, was co-captain of the Leopards and played right guard. A talented blocker and capable leader, he always gave his best.

12. Nolan Schmitz, End

Smaltie, a new man this year, developed fast and was a regular left end during the latter part of the season. He was a deadly blocker and able defense man.

13

15

16

17

13. Harry Cowing, Back

Sonny", a three-year letterman, made the All-City team and won the distinction of being the highest scoring Leopard. He was one of the district's fastest runners and showed up well in Mexico City

14. Richard Avery, Tackle

Dusek" will be back next fall to bid for his third letter. Switched from guard to right tackle, he handled himself ably on defensive play

15. Hulen Simmons, End

Returning for his second year on the squad, Pete" earned his first letter this season and collected his share of the glory in Mexico City

16. Sam Maddera, Tackle

Playing hard every minute of the game, powerful Sam earned his first letter last fall. He handled responsible chores at both tackle positions and excelled at blocking

17. Kenneth Pogue, Back

A stand-out in punting and passing is promised the '43 team in the form of this excellent halfback. This is "Pogsy's" first year to letter

LEOPARDS

18. James Neighbors, End

An all round good end, "Jake" earned a letter his first playing year. He could hold his own on defense and capably executed his offensive assignments.

19. Scott Keahey, Guard

Advancing from last year's second string, "Scottie" became a regular during the latter part of the season. He'll be back for a second letter next fall.

20. Ed Teubner, Tackle

"Big Ed", earning his second letter, made many all-opponent teams as well as the All-City squad. Opposing players found him tough to handle on defense. He proved his value on the Mexico City team

21. Benny Duncan, Center

Excelling in defensive assignments, spirited "Dunk" returned to the pivot position this year to receive his initial letter. He developed into one of the Leopards' star performers

22. James Felts, Back

Jimmy's quick, cool action proved that he was a smart field general. His first letter, earned this season, represents a good many well executed blocking plays

On the Court

Finishing third in the Plano Basketball Tournament, as well as in the City Series race, the Blue team took first honors at the general tournament held at the Dallas Y. M. C. A. Captain Tom Chandler accepted the "Y" trophy during an Adamson assembly.

At the Plano tourney the Leopard cagers defeated Woodrow Wilson, Bonham, the Hensley Naval Air Base players, and the Post Office team. They lost to Sunset and Highland Park.

Here is a schedule of the City Series contest, in which the Leopards won half the games they played.

On the Diamond

With a shining record for the '42 season, the State champions are warming up for an equally successful year in '43. Last spring the Adamson players, captained by Hendrix Hollabaugh and Albert Bass, lost only one game—that to Woodrow Wilson. Seven squadmen were placed on the All-state team. Six of the boys hit over .300.

Judged favorites in the City Series contest, despite the illness of ace pitcher Earl Beesley, this year's Leopards include eight lettermen—James Calvert, Wallace Clyce, Tom Chandler, Bob Wasson, Jack Lindsey, Doyle Rambo, Duane Clouse, and Hulen Simmons. As the Oak goes to press, their season's schedule (including five instead of the usual ten games) looks like this:

April 16	Adamson vs. Woodrow Wilson
April 23	Adamson vs. Forest
May 1	Adamson vs. North Dallas
May 7	Adamson vs. Tech
May 15	Adamson vs. Sunset

On The Cinder Path

Doyle Rambo's surprise high jump nosed out the Bisons and clinched for Adamson the City track title. Other outstanding performances highlighted the 37½-32 championship meet, held on April 9. Letters were won by Charles Davis, Vernon Ratliff, Elbert Bush, Norman Spray, Archie Brixey, Doyle Rambo, and Sam Madderra.

In the sprint medley competition at the Texas Relays, Spray, Bush, Brixey, and Davis took second place.

Girls' Physical Training

Golf Team

Enthusiastic Adamson golfers enjoyed a particularly interesting season. Coached by Mr. L. C. Leftwich, they will be back again next year with the training and experience necessary for showing up well in city competition matches. From left to right they are: Harry Glover, Bill Broughton, Charles Rogers, Charles Lattimore, Jimmy Buchanan

Tennis Team

Meet the Adamson tennis team!
Ranking second in the city in the 1943 competition, this group has some of the best all-around players the school has ever had. Chuck and B. J. won the city-championship in boys' doubles and the girls gave their adversaries really stiff battles. From left to right they are: Doloris Bushey, Mary Jan Holbrook, Chuck McRoberts, Alvin Shoeler, Patsy Pledge, Bill Conger. Mr. Smith is the Coach.

General Robert Edward Lee, patriot, scholar, gentleman—this statue presented to our city on June 12, 1936, by the Dallas Southern Memorial Association.

El senior Luis Perez-Abreu, the genial Mexican consul, awards another trophy.

(Spring, 1942, too late for the '42 Oak.)

The joy of giving . . . Christmas.

I Remember

By A SENIOR

Sept. 15. Vacation days over—doors of the alma mater flung open—saw new and familiar faces in the halls—"Hi, 'Stubby'! Hi ya, Mariannel Hey, there's a girl with socks on!"—Eight new teachers: Miss Schroeder, Mrs. Hagerty, Mr. Cumly, Sergeant Webb, Mr. Sherman, Mrs. Fulton, Mr. Mayo, Miss Spencer—Here to take the places of those fighting for the U. S. A.—Classes in aeronautics overflowing

Sept. 17. Resolved to remember these words of Chester Swar: "It is better to aim at a million and miss it than to aim at a hundred and make it."

Sept. 23. 4A's off to a rollicking start with George Spicer, James Abbott, Nell Ruth, and Ava Jane as new officers.

Sept. 24. Big news! Beesley made regimental commander of R. O. T. C. for complete year!

Sept. 25. Majorettes in full regalia added "that certain something" to first pep assembly. Bel you remember Doris Weatherford! Betty Joyce! Mariannel Nell Ruth; And Della Lou!

Oct. 5. What? Still more lovelies? Con! "i, Carolyn Davis, Doris Wyatt, Lois, Nancy, Dorrace, Nell Ruth, and Betty Joyce sported Sam Browns on the parade ground.

Oct. 6. Nell Ruth Porter made headlines again! Second girl in Adamson's history to head the Student Council. Norman Spray and Pat Dailey next in command.

Oct. 10. Out to Dal Hi to see the Blue Wave roll over Forest, 34-0.

Oct. 17. Que guapos! Que fuertes! Sighs of admiration filled the air. Celebration of Mexico Day, with six football players from Mexico City's Polytechnic Institute as our guests.

Oct. 18. The rain didn't spoil our fun at the Polytechnic-Crozier Tech game.

Oct. 23. Home Coming Day for old favorites Pat Ingram, Homer Bankhead, Bill Burris, Tommy Bowles, Dan McClure, and Bob Bearden. Remember Mr. Hamilton's rousing pep talk? Miniature gold baseballs were awarded last year's state champs, too.

Oct. 24. Our long-anticipated battle with the Bisons ended in a 25-12 disappointment.

Oct. 29. Said goodbye to Mr. Cumley and Colonel Barton, who were off to serve Uncle Sam.

Oct. 30. Yea, team! Bulldogs set back by 13-7 count.

Nov. 2. Howling fun at the annual R. O. T. C. Assembly, when beautiful sponsors modeled uniforms dating back to 1920. Serious side, too—commissions and the Camp Dallas Self-Discipline Cup were presented.

Nov. 6. Whoopee! Sadie Hawkins celebration in the gym! A perfect evening for jitterbugs.

Nov. 14. The most thrilling football game of the year. Woodrow, six! Adamson, twelve!

Nov. 17. Mr. Redway arrived from Denton to teach fractions and molecules.

Nov. 20. We turned back the Wolves and kept second place in City Series competition.

Nov. 24. "... doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief"—which will you take? First group of vocational guidance speakers.

Nov. 25. Out for a four-day frolic! Too bad Thanksgiving comes but once a year.

Dec. 3. The band struck up under the new director, Mr. Hill.

Dec. 4. "Who's afraid of the big bad wolf?"—How'd you like that streamlined version of "Little Red Riding Hood" in the January senior play?

Dec. 7. Pearl Harbor Assembly. Saw clearly the changes brought by war during '42.

Dec. 8. Picture in the Acorn of the six gridsters who made All-City and won the Mexico trip. You know who they are—Teubner, Simmons, Beesley, Cowing, Calvert, Surratt.

Dec. 16. "Pop" Noah's Junior Commandos made their first appearance at assembly.

Dec. 17. Prettiest assembly of the year. Twenty eight boys and girls pledged to uphold standards of N. H. S.

Dec. 18. Silk stockings everywhere! No, we weren't hoarding—just doing our patriotic duty. Collection of 3,478 stockings in all.

Dec. 19. Adamson's Rifle Team unbeatable! The city championship ours again!

Dec. 22. Brought extra pennies to school for the big Penny Parade—helped fill up a Christmas basket for the needy—cast my votes in the popularity contest—then forgot school and lessons for two whole weeks.

Jan. 4. Learned of Miss Margaret Spencer's death. Miss Easley transferred to North Dallas. Another new teacher, Miss Foster, arrived.

Jan. 8. Good food and a merry time at the football banquet.

Jan. 22. Radio Station WHAS made a big hit at Senior Day Assembly.

Jan. 25. Dangert! Exam week ahead!

Jan. 29. Night of nights for mid-term grads.

Feb. 8. Lag at half mast in the memory of Mrs. Nellie Clement, former art teacher.

Feb. 15. Betty Joyce, Carolyn, Doris, Nancy, and Dorrace stuck to their posts as military sponsors—welcomed Gwen D. H. and Margaret Simpson to the ranks.

Feb. 16. Dailey stepped up to top position in the Student Council. Other officers are Norman and Mary Jane Ho.

Feb. 17. Carolyn Davis, Chandler, Cherry, Spray, and Beesley were elected to head the five divisions of the Victory Corps.

Feb. 23. New crop of senior officers—Cherry, Simpson, Felts, Randall, and Underwood.

Feb. 26. "Atta boy! Sock him hard!" Plenty of noise and fun galore at Adamson's first boxing matches.

Feb. 27. Surprise! School on Saturday! Hats off to the cagers, winners of the "Y" tournament.

March 9. Did my bit to safeguard America—bought War Stamps on the opening day of the National Honor Society's drive.

March 22. Hickerson Trophy stayed in our case. Adamson's sharpshooters hold best record for year's matches.

March 23. Congratulated Christine York and Jim Paden, who've been chosen for leads in the senior comedy, "Youth Loves the Day."

March 26. Through the air and over the high hurdles went the girls of the Physical Fitness Club.

April 9. Got plenty excited when Rambo jumped 5' 8" and cinched the city track title for Adamson.

April 15. Doyle Rambo again demonstrated his ability. He was judged the best boy actor in Dallas in the Inter-scholastic League one-act play contest. He played the part of "The Killer" in "The Singapore Spider."

April 16. Forward! Column left! March! Something new in parade lines—an all-girl outfit!

April 20. Annual fun-packed election of yell leaders. This time J. W. Morris, Milton Elms, and Eleanor Wall won out.

April 23. Student Day (exclamation point) with a super duper assembly to start things off right. Gloria Dyer's two solos highlighted the show. We all sang "Over There," "My Darling Clementine," "Oh, Susanna," and lots of other favorites. P. S.: That night the baseball team walloped Forest, probably our toughest opponent.

April 27. Report cards came out today. Did O.K. in all four subjects. Guess I'll be exempt from exams. Hope so—been looking forward to this for years. Let's see—just twenty-three more days 'til Senior Day and thirty more days 'til graduation. Of course they're really the two most important dates of the year.

May 21 and May 27. But without all the others on this page, think of the swell time the seniors would have missed. Oh, well—anyway, it's been lots of fun remembering!
